

My Tables and Chairs

When I purchased my Whyte Avenue property in 1993 I imagined that I would open a restaurant, so I spent the next few years building the tables. I bought the oak chairs from antique stores and refinished them in red, to match the name of my company, Red Café Inc. Now my tenants are realizing my dream, and like me, the tables and chairs are gradually aging. They sit in the field as a visible testament to my enthusiasm, a metaphor for an imagined life, well-lived, returning to nature.

This owl may have been waiting to be served in the Red Café

#407 my aging tables and chairs oil on canvas 14"x14" 2022

#408 where the moose roam 16"x24" oil on canvas 2022

#409 green is not my favourite colour oil on canvas 14"x14" 2022

#410 ghosts in the field oil on canvas 18"x24" 2022

#411 RED 1 oil on canvas 14"x14" 2022

#412 RED 2 oil on canvas 14"x14" 2022

